

Don't look!

ON the eve of the opening of the film "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" in London on Monday comes a warning from the British UFO Society. Genuine close encounters with UFOs must be avoided at all costs, warns Mr. Ken Rogers, chairman of the Society and formerly from Warminster.

There are many well documented cases where close encounters with UFOs have caused the witness to suffer temporary paralysis, blindness, burns and mental stress," he says. "Enthusiasts should be very careful before sky watching on the hills around Hampshire and Wiltshire."

● COOL comment from these three young lads when an unidentified flying object hovered in on their Sunday afternoon football game: "The Thing put us right off our game".

Perhaps it's because these lads—10-year-olds Nicholas Szimons and Christopher O'Connor, and Chris's 12-year-old brother Gerald—live in Warminster that they don't get too worked up about the occasional UFO.

The Wiltshire town has for years been Britain's busiest link with visitors from space. Keen to hear about the boys' sighting was author Arthur Shuttlewood, who lives in Warminster, seen here getting eye-witness reports from the three. Arthur's chronicles of the Warminster-Space link are known world-wide.
