16 - AMAZING CASE OF ESP WITH UFO INVOLVEMENT & CONTACT

Brian, who lives in Somerset, had been in Europe for a month. While in Germany, and witnessed by a member of the British Security Forces, he made this sketch (above), BEFORE he returned to the UK and found Fountain Journal No. 9 in his post or read the News of the World Story. The No 9 cover and the N.o.W. description closely match this sketch. More in FJ II

DON'T LET THE 'DEAD END' SYNDROME GET YOU DOWN

-o-

Ufology at present is suffering from the 'dead end' syndrome, everywhere we (I refer to ufologist like myself, there are innumerable obstacles put in our way!

Ministry departments smile faintly when dealing with a sighting as the details are taken down for investigation, as well they might!!! For the outcome is a foregone conclusion. Officially there is no such thing as a UFO! So no matter how sympathetic they might appear to be, don't expect any other result than a negative, disappointing one.

The police, when notified of a sighting, at least appear to do something. Indeed! Many police officers themselves have seen ufos, so what else can they do? If the sighting is local, then the police will look into it, after which they pass the information onto the 'ministry', so getting back to square one! The main thing which comes out of this is that all the information given is taken down and filed! How many thousands of such sightings are there up to the present day? Even at twenty sightings per week (a very moderate estimate) it amounts to a sizable sum over the thirty years since major sightings have taken place, and this is only in the UK!

In the USA the situation is much more dramatic! Many, many more sightings have been reported, but the administration clamps down on them immediately. Admittedly they did have an official investigation into ufos, but it was eventually wound down by saying that no evidence for ufos had been found. Now there is no official body interested in the subject, or is there? On the surface at least all is still, but they seem to be as keen as ever to receive news of sightings, and this applies to all countries! If they don't now investigate sightings, and are confident there are no such things as ufos, why do they still want reports?

Many conclusions have been reached, not least of all the one that officially but privately, they do believe in ufos! Perhaps they know a lot more than they let on, perhaps they themselves have first hand evidence of sightings, or even contact with ufos.

When the Condon report came out some years ago there was a lot of hot air expounded and many misquotes given (deliberate or otherwise) to disclaim this one thousand page-report, the contents of which I am not going into here!

Withholding and concealing evidence is at least a serious scandal in any other field. Why then can Ministries get away with it in this sphere? Mainly because ordinary people don't

I/
18 - want to get involved with, what is to most of them, a topic which marks one as 'odd'!

One way in which we can all help is to report all our sightings etc. to a reputable, non establishment, organisation, (such as the Fountain Centre). Also, keep our own records. Write down what has been seen as soon as possible after the event has happened, better still, get it on tape too! Another thing I suggest is to always carry a camera with you in the car, how many sightings have been made in such circumstances, and what a difference a supporting photograph would have made! If more than one person sees something, each write down their accounts separately without first discussing it, first impressions can be changed drastically by 'talking over the facts'!

This is one area of science, and it is most certainly a science, as future years will show, where the ordinary people hold the key to braking the ufo code. By our full time investigations and occasional reports received, even if a person only sees something once in their life it is still vital evidence needed to go towards the completion.

Publicity is always given momentarily to outstanding sightings but how soon is it before its all forgotten by the public. I wonder how many remember the Scorton Affair now? Information is needed! Descriptions of sightings, craft etc. and perhaps most important of all, photographs! Armed with these things we can face up to official attitudes with confidence and demand open investigations and files on reports. Without them, things are going to go on as they have done for the last thirty years! It's up to you! By your help alone can the fascinating mystery before us be solved and the veil of ignorance be lifted!

Dear Readers,

First apologies for being late with No 10. reasons being multiple, flood of letters from N.o.W. article, internal reorganisation in preparation for summer 77, and both Jane and I being dogged by ill health for some weeks.

Just a few notes; member numbers will all be by post now, just too many to print in the mag. Please excuse delays in answer to questions and letters, when we have the new facility sorted out and more staff we will be back to the efficiency we achieved over 76; we've just been taken by surprise with the escalation of public interest in 77. Bear with us, great things are happening and we have lots of good contact and close up reports to come in the future mags. Thankyou.

THE TIMES OF MAN

-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-

You may have noticed a slight natural change in apparent time of late. In a sence this is the real element of 'time' the sequence of events. Clock time being the cosmic beat at a certain level, real or apparent time being the level to which the spirit rather than the body (a reflection) responds.

Merista, indicated Spicel with a slight nod. Gef smiled, appreciative of the answer at last. She heard her name and looked to Gef with a calm questioning look. Gef responded immediately, confident as ever, curious but charmingly polite "Gef, KEL 21, Capt, on attachment to GL, delighted to make your acquaintance." "Merista, Blue EL line, Ed and Hist, to be with P2I6. It will be a pleasure to be working together," she replied in a quiet tone, not to interupt.

The room darkened a little and the holograph projectors in ceiling and floor faded up a 3D image of the Sol System in the middle of the room. There it was in miniture just as it was in space. The technique always was startling in its beauty and reality. Spicel was running a video tape, his hand resting on the memory call input before him. All eyes studied the hologram. "Present position," commented Spicel.
