

thumping we agreed that the noise had originated from the bonnet area of the car body, though there was an element of doubt. We discussed several possible causes. Soteris believing that it was due to car body strain or engine contraction due to cooling. However, the other two members of the party pointed out that the car had already cooled as it had been parked for 45 minutes on the rather windy hill and that the days motoring had not been excessive anyway. Chris remarked that in the 2½ years he had owned the car, he had never heard anything like it before.

Later in the evening, around 9.45, Chris spotted two UFO's while walking up the drive to Star House. They were bright star like objects travelling with tremendous speed, but were out of sight in seconds, before Andy or Soteris managed to see them. However, whilst looking for these, Andy ran to the forecourt of Star House at the top of the drive and looking straight up, caught sight of a large round faintly luminous UFO which was circular and about the size of a small soup bowl at arms length. It appeared to have the texture of a cloud and seemed to be pure white. Moving very fast it was out of sight in seconds heading towards the Cop Heap area, as were the others, one after the other.

Around 15mins later when other members of Fountain Centre were spotting from the Star House grounds, Chris sighted a third UFO similar to the first two, this time coming from the Cop Heap direction, but it was too fast for other watchers who were some fifty yards away to catch sight of it. A sky watch was held later on Cradle Hill but bad weather prevented any observations.

Chris who is shooting a private film on ufo's will be back for the new years eve sky watch, hoping for good weather and a close sighting.

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

Sightings density over Warminster.

-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-

We take quiet a lot of 'stick' from the 'experts' over the number of sightings over Warminster so we thought we would detail the objects seen over two nights this summer of 76. We have contrived a new term; MSO meaning , moving star-like objects, and we make no comment on what these may have been. Up to 38 of these MSO's have been recorded in one three hour sky-watch, this is not making any separation between man made earthorbital objects and extra-terrestrial orbital objects.

Statistically an average of two ufos have been seen each week during the last eleven years over Warminster hilltops. Sometimes just a few degrees above the gaunt outlines of trees and scrubland or slowly meandering across the sky in a distinctive motion and sometimes in sight of skywatchers for twenty minutes and more when very low near slopes of hills have been bathed in the roseate glow of the aeroforms illumination.

10 -

30/7/76

Time	Appeared	Departed	Transit time
10.30pm	Overhead	ESE	Very short
10.41pm	"	E	Very short
10.46pm	"	ESE	Very short
10.48pm	S	ESE	Very short
11.11pm	NW	S	1 min.
11.59pm	W	SSW	1 min.
12.18am	E	S	30secs.
12.47am	S	N	1 min.
12.56am	NW	SSE	3 mins.
1.05am	SE	NE	30secs.
1.14am	NE	Overhead	30secs.
1.14.30sec.	Overhead	NE	30secs.

31/7/76

10.18pm	N	ESE	2mins.
10.21pm	SSW	NE	4mins.
10.55pm	S	E	2mins.
11.01pm	Overhead	Overhead	30secs.
11.05pm	Overhead	N	Very short
11.20pm	Overhead	E	1 min.
11.30pm	SW	S	1 min.
12.00pm	Overhead	N	1 min.

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

Fountains - by Fred Hatcher.

-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-

The house is a fountain of knowledge,
a house of a fountain of stars,
was built on a mountain of wisdom,
that towers to Venus and Mars,
Each star tells its own little story,
a story told often before,

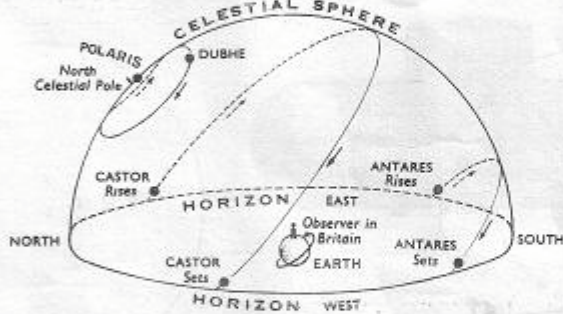

Each star has its own place in glory,
 of truth that will shine evermore,
 This house is a house for a fountain,
 that knows not the passing of years,
 Or man changing mole hills to mountains,
 Gods glory to boredom and tears,
 This house is a link with the heavens,
 a starship to carry the mind,
 To that peaceful and glorious haven,
 all seekers are certain to find.

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

ASTROLOGY EXPLAINED - No. 2, More basics.

-O-O-O-O-O-O-O-O-O-O-

Apparent movement of the Stars.

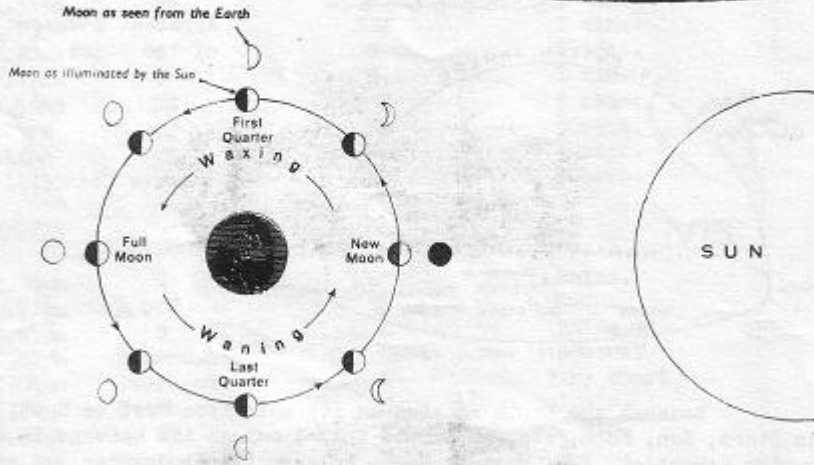

Because the Earth rotates on its axis from West to East, the Stars, Sun, Moon, etc, appear to travel across the heavens in a counter direction, i.e. East to West. Polaris (the Pole Star) is so near to the North Celestial Pole that its position appears constant, always due north. The stars close to Polaris never disappear below the horizon in their apparent rotation about the Pole Star.

At any moment a particular sign of the zodiac is rising on the eastern horizon and as there are twelve signs in the zodiac and the Earth rotates in 24 hours it follows that each sign takes 2 hours to rise before the parameter of the next sign appears. At the date of birth you have your Sun Sign, but by knowing the hour of birth the zodiac sign which was rising on the horizon at that moment can be calculated. This is known as your Rising Sign and it has as much influence in your life as your Sun Sign. You should find out your Rising Sign and read your stars for both signs in any forecast.

Left: Flatter, right: Dumbo, lower right: Quintain.

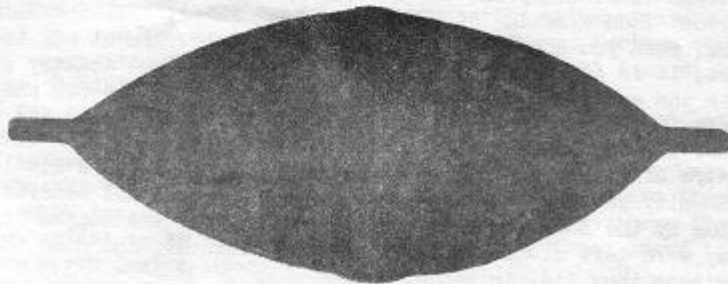

Above: Phases of the Moon.

The Moon revolves around the Earth in the same direction that the Earth rotates. During each of its orbits around the Earth the Moon rotates once on its axis. For that reason the same face is turned constantly towards the Earth.

At Full Moon we see the full lighted side of the Moon, whilst at New Moon only the dark side is towards the Earth and is difficult to see. The crescents of the Moon are not caused by the Earth, but are due to the angle at which we view it. A New Moon occurs at intervals of just over 29 days.

Commonsense WARNING :

Do not touch the hull of a craft.
Do not move under a craft.
Do not approach a craft about to ascend.

Light Brighter Now .

-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-

Although to many Glastonbury is just another west country town, to others it is something special, a place to be proud of, a place that has a past historically beautiful, with connections out of this world in more ways than one.

It is no wonder that Somerset, Wiltshire, Devon and Cornwall, along with South Wales and other places in the southwest has been in the past and now frequently visited by our friends from outer space, it is no wonder at all, for they also have their ancient connections with us here.

From the top of the Tor the view of the surrounding countryside has to be seen to be believed. Avlon, and the Vale of Avlon from the Tor makes it easy to see how protected the Ancient Druids were from the comings and goings of invaders, including the Romans who had only one thing in mind when they came to Briton during those ancient days, to rid the world of the Christians. Avlon was the Christians Sanctuary, never troubled by the Romans, they were left in peace to go about their Christian work teaching overseas. It is no wonder that down through the ages almost to this date, British missionaries have toured the world preaching and teaching, as the Disciples led by Christ did during those ancient times.

The tremendous part played by the ancient people of Glastonbury, (The Isle of Avalon), towards the teaching and preaching of the Christian Gospel, is beautifully told by, George F. Jowett in, 'The Drama of the Lost Disciples'. No doubt this book has been read by all who live within the mentioned counties if nowhere else, but have the readers used their sense of proportion and found the connection between Glastonbury and the rest of the ancient Holy Triangle of Briton? When speaking of UFO's many have asked, "But why Warminster?" Well, when you consider that many of the vales are at sea level to the west, it is not difficult to imagine what the west country was like when the sea level was a little higher. Stand on the Tor and walk round the Church Tower, imagine the lowlands to be sea, and the higher lands to be islands, and you find you are standing on an island in the centre of many islands of various sizes. Each island a little community separated by water, from the next, and not considered of value by the Romans, and certainly nothing for the Romans to fear. They were left alone to mind their own business, and mind their own business they did, in peace.

The Druid tradition taught Christian ways of living, harmoniously balanced in accordance with natural laws. God created laws had been taught to the world by other Christ-like persons or, by the messengers who by some ancients were thought to be God himself, but were the messengers bringing the thought of Godhead and the coming of Christ in precisely the way they are doing it today?

1976 has been made known to be the beginning of a great change in the world. Man on Earth is rapidly returning to square one where this present cycle runs into the next. Each completed cycle has brought about the destruction of mans material gained during the cycle.

The percentage of men who understand the true place of material values, their limitations and consequences are too few to affect the opinion of the majority. At least, this is what the present world situation would suggest, but maybe it is much higher and can be proved by all of these who so-far have not stood to be counted to be amenable to improvement. Who is strong enough to do this, short of Jesus Christ himself.

To me, Warminster is a disciple of Glastonbury, the Holy Isle of Avlon. The boundries must be attended to for the safe keeping of the glorious centre. On earth, there are many important cities and towns, but the most important places of all can be passed without attracting a glance, this, from the majority. I have spent two weekends in Glastonbury since I stayed in Warminster. I can see the light much brighter now.

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

Earth Magic

-o-o-o-o-o-

Stonehenge is now recognized as a sophisticated observatory. But was it once a 'power station' in a megalithic 'National Grid'? This is one of the thought-provoking theories in a new book, 'Earth Magic', by Francis Hitching.

Scientists know that our ancestors used complex mathematical and geometrical theorem to construct their standing stones. Further research shows that every standing stone in Britain is in a direct line with two or more prehistoric sites.

If you continue a line along the Summer Solstice at Stonehenge, it will pass through the ancient fertility figure of the Cerne Giant in Dorset before reaching the coast at Puncknowle Beacon, near Bridport..

Advocates of these ley lines, as they are called, claim these old stones show traces of an electro-magnetic power. Were they, therefore, aligned as 'grids' to trap, store or boost some life force known to dwellers on earth long ago.

'Earth Magic' is published at £4.50 by Cassell.

Written by Francis Hitching it states the case but offers no answers to the lost knowledge of people we have always been told were 'primitive'.

THE FOUNTAIN CENTRE,

STAR HOUSE,

78, PORTWAY, WARMINSTER, WILTSHIRE.

Dear Friends,

Thank you for your letters, articles, news clippings, sightings, and all those odds and ends your womble hunting found for us. Keep them coming. It is a very pleasant task every month to find we have far more information than space in the Journal to get it all in. However we have to be economic so we cram in as much as we can. Regular readers will already have noticed that the mixture changes with each edition and this is a reflection on the pressure on space, so we try to be fair as we can and ring the changes.

We are making some progress with the Star House, nearly there, should all be home and dry by NO.6 issue. The weather has been rough here for about six weeks so we have not been out much on the hills but those who have, have been seeing plenty of aerial activity. The magazine subscriptions climb at a very pleasing rate, up from 117 to 136 in four weeks. Don't forget those subscription renewals now!

We have several new series coming along, and a few surprises. On the media scene, the 'Beeb' (BBC) were seen lurking in the town over September, mutterings of a programme going out in January 77, so watch those Radio Times. Had nothing to do with it so can't make up my mind if it will be a scientific send up or more in the tradition of Monty Python; you don't for one moment think they might take it seriously do you? Tell you never know pigs may fly yet. However we have some more coverage organised for next year.

Arthurs book will be out on the 21st of November and there are two more on the way. Good luck with it Arthur we all hope it is a big success. It will be available through most book shops - paperback

Well hello there all you sky watchers, its now winter season time and all you timid ones with the cold feet had better stay close to your firesides and not venture onto our back yard while we get a little work done. We have done a lot of survey work this summer and we have now classified sky-watchers into several easily recognised types:

Type I : The gadget minded watch - can easily be noticed by the absolutely amazing collection of junk which hangs about his person. This should include either a cheap plastic camera or a very technical one which is too complicated for him to operate. It must always be loaded with a film which could also record 'the wife' featured standing in blazing sunlight in front of Longleat and also a pinpoint of light against a black sky. The best film for the watcher to use is a very slow colour film, thereby ensuring that no UFO appears on the negative hence giving rise to a good yarn that the UFO affected the camera. If the camera can be shaken when used, or set to 2ft 6inches (only for technically minded watchers who can measure) a suitably blurred, thats right blurred, image will be produced and hailed genuine. Type I watchers will also carry lodestones which make very good door bells, clip boards, radio sets (usually tuned to a pop programme), tape recorders, stop watches, cine cameras and a gadget for counting geigers.

Type II : The novice watcher. Sits in his car looking vaguely, and nervously out, for he knows not what; is always accompanied by a female who sits boared to tears and thinks hes mad. He may with training over many years become a Type I watcher, but he is always fair game for Type III.

Type III : The experienced sky watcher. He carries nothing in the way of a gadget, has passed that stage years ago and knows Type I are wasting their time. No his great routine is that whatever you are about to witness, he has seen a much better one before. Yes it was either the 'Warminster Landing' or a huge orange blob over Starr Hill, whatever, you will never see the like again and the story is told with dramatic feeling. Type III will always have 'opinions' which he ensures Type I listens to with minute detail.

Type IV : The scientifically associated watcher. He is never a scientist but always is heavily connected with some university research programme. He will first of all tell you that there is nothing in ufos and then proceed to back this up with detailed technical descriptions of complicated pieces of equipment like wet and dry thermometers which have proved they don't exist. He is always an 'expert' and works for a highly scientific, efficient and secret government organisation, for example, the Post Office.

Type V: The Official sky watcher. He is always watching in his official capacity. It is never clear what exactly this is but he will always carry his official card to show that he is an official, watching in his official capacity. If he is a member of a small society, total membership of two, it is possible to rise to the lofty position of Vice-President almost immediately. But he would certainly never admit to being an ordinary member of the public. No, if he is not a regional coordinator, head of the data section, or got plans to process all the findings through a computer, he is hardly worth knowing. When engaging in light conversation with other watchers, which he really knows is an undercover interview by a member of the press or the CIA, he will talk for hours on his 'organisation'. There are always 'plans' and always 'problems'. A little light banter about another member of the 'organisation', or some snippet of information on the impending doom of another UFO society will convince others of his inside knowledge and they will stand awe struck by his official capacity.

Type VI : The Helpful Watcher. Will gesticulate wildly at local landmarks, fill in with local history, and general enthusiastic encouragement. He is always concerned that you are going to see something and will convince Type II that he is not mad after all.

Type VII :The Stolid Watcher. Is wrapped in about four coats, gunboots, gloves, never far from the warmth of his car, which houses hot coffee and sandwiches. Has been here before - many , many , times - patiently he listens to Types I to VI and while not disagreeing, mutters, "yes its something like that." Has slightly bored with any old 'lit' and is waiting for the big one. Has prepared to wait for a year or two, and is the most likely person to be found consistently on the hills.

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

Triangle Lights.

-O-O-O-O-O-O-O-

At Barnet, Mrs M. Blayney awoke one June morning. She was surprised to find the room looking much brighter than usual at that hour, so went to the bedroom window facing south. She saw nothing, so went along a short passage to a window facing north. Seeing nothing unusual, she retired to bed. But a light then shone into her window twice, as if it originated from an aircraft carrying revolving lights. There was no sound. Which reminds me of a night in November 1974 at Starr Hill, Warminster, with 16 watchers assembled in front of the barn. A peculiar triangle of light was thrust upward, as if from the hill itself; then went out and flashed